Featuring an exclusive lecture series and comprehensive touring, this unique educational program combines learning and sightseeing with a whole new level of luxury.

Dear Travelers,

One of the greatest rewards of alumni travel is the opportunity to learn alongside fellow World Affairs Council of Philadelphia travelers while exploring remarkable places around the world. It is my pleasure to invite you to join an unforgettable journey through northern France in partnership with The National WWII Museum's acclaimed Educational Travel Program.

This thoughtfully designed itinerary combines immersive exploration of Normandy with the elegance of a Seine River cruise, where history comes alive at the very places it was made. From the beaches of D-Day to the heart of Paris, you'll experience the landscapes, stories, and culture that shaped one of history's most pivotal moments.

Our group will fly into Paris and transfer to Normandy. There, we'll stay for four nights in a magnificent five-star château, perfectly situated for daily excursions to the beaches, battlefields, museums, and villages that witnessed the Allied liberation of France. Next, we will board the exclusively chartered Uniworld SS Joie de Vivre, spending four nights cruising the Seine River back to Paris. Each evening offers time to relax over exceptional French cuisine while reflecting on the day's experiences.

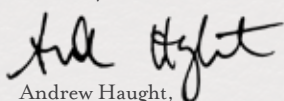

What truly sets this journey apart is the expertise of The National WWII Museum. Throughout the program, distinguished historians, authors, and battlefield experts accompany us, providing insightful commentary during our excursions and engaging lectures each evening. Combined with expert local guides and exclusive access to the Museum's unparalleled digital archives, these experiences create a depth of understanding that simply cannot be replicated through independent travel.

For those wishing to spend additional time in France, an optional two-night post-tour in Paris offers the chance to celebrate the remarkable story of the liberation of the City of Light while exploring one of the world's most beloved destinations.

Whether this will be your first visit to France or your fifth, I believe you'll discover something new through the shared experience of traveling with fellow alumni and learning alongside experts who have dedicated their careers to preserving the history of World War II. Together, we'll honor the courage and sacrifice of those who fought for freedom while enjoying the exceptional accommodations, enriching educational experiences, and meaningful camaraderie that define alumni travel.

I hope you'll consider joining us for this extraordinary journey.

Sincerely,

Andrew Haught,

STAND WHERE HISTORY WAS MADE

THE CHURCH AT SAINTE-MÈRE-ÉGLISE

On the night of June 5–6, 1944, during the parachute drop of Airborne troops in the area of Sainte-Mère-Église, Private John Steele was hit in the foot by a burst of flak. He could not control his parachute and landed on the steeple of the church around 1:00 a.m. Steele tried to free himself from his parachute for more than two hours while the battle raged on in the church square below. Finally, two German soldiers freed him, took him prisoner, and cared for his wounded foot. He escaped and joined the Allied lines three days later before being transferred to a hospital in England. For his actions and his injuries, Steele was awarded the Bronze Star medal for bravery and a Purple Heart for wounds in combat. This action was featured in the movie The Longest Day, and, to this day, a “dummy” paratrooper hangs from the church steeple commemorating this event.

DAY 3 • US AIRBORNE: SAINTE-MÈRE-ÉGLISE & UTAH BEACH

Visit La Fièvre Bridge, the scene of heavy fighting from June 6–8, 1944. Seizing this strategic causeway resulted in over 250 American casualties. Next, visit the town of Sainte-Mère-Église, where paratroopers landed during the predawn hours of D-Day. Dropping into the town square, the men of the 82nd Airborne Division fought tenaciously against the German defenders for control of this vital crossroads. Tour highlights include a visit to Musée Airborne and to the famous church. In the afternoon, visit Utah Beach, one of the two American landing beaches, which consisted of four crucial causeways that allowed for the invasion forces to advance off the beach and through the flooded fields. Hear the story of General Theodore Roosevelt Jr., and visit the Utah Beach Landing Museum, which features a restored B-26 Marauder and detailed re-creations of the German beach defenses. End the touring day with a stop at Brécourt Manor, the scene of the assault led by Dick Winters famously depicted in the HBO miniseries Band of Brothers.

Accommodations: Château d'Audrieu or Château La Chenevière (B, L, R, D)

DAY 4 • POINTE DU HOC / OMAHA BEACH / NORMANDY AMERICAN CEMETERY

The morning tour begins at Pointe du Hoc*, where the 2nd Ranger Battalion scaled the cliffs to neutralize the fortified German position. The next stop is “Bloody Omaha” Beach, where US forces overcame the odds to etch a heroic chapter in history. Visits to the coastal towns of Saint-Laurent-sur-Mer and Vierville-sur-Mer provide a close-up view of the intricate German defense system on Omaha and give a sense of the overwhelming odds American soldiers faced on June 6, 1944. After lunch, visit the Normandy American Cemetery to pay respects to the 9,389 Americans buried in the ground they helped liberate. This evening, take part in a special “Farewell to Normandy” dinner at the château with the group.

DAY 5 • BAYEUX / BOARD THE SS JOIE DE VIVRE

Spend the last morning in coastal Normandy exploring the picturesque town of Bayeux. DAY 6 • DIEPPE / ROUEN

On the northern coast of France lies the fishing community of Dieppe. It was here in August 1942 that the ill-fated Allied raid, consisting mostly of Canadian forces, offered invaluable lessons for D-Day nearly two years later. Marvel at the smooth stones, called shale, that make up the beach. Traction is difficult while walking on them, so one can imagine the difficulty of landing and advancing while under fire. The boardwalk behind the beach contains tributes to the units and men who came ashore in hopes of seizing and holding the town. A keen eye will be able to spot the German emplacements on the cliffs above Dieppe. After lunch and free time in this charming seaside town, return to Rouen. Described by Victor Hugo as “the city with a hundred bell towers,” Rouen was the scene of the Eighth Air Force’s first bombing mission over Europe in 1942, just two days before the Dieppe Raid. Take part in a walking tour of the town center or return to the ship to relax before dinner this evening.

Accommodations: SS Joie de Vivre (B, R, D)

DAY 7 • LA ROCHE-GUYON / LES ANDELYS

La Roche-Guyon is the famous 12th-century château on the Seine where German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel established his headquarters. At La Roche-Guyon, “The Desert Fox” planned and prepared the tough defenses that the Allies encountered on D-Day, as well as the German maneuvers during the campaign that followed. After lunch aboard the ship, dock at Les Andelys, and visit Château Gaillard, Richard the Lionheart’s 12th-century stronghold, offering inspiring views of the Seine River.

Accommodations: SS Joie de Vivre (B, L, R, D)

DAY 8 • MANTES-LA-JOLIE

Versailles

At the end of World War I, the world's statesmen gathered at The Palace of Versailles to sign the ill-fated peace treaty ending "The Great War." The defeated Germans ultimately rejected the harsh provisions of the Treaty of Versailles, setting the stage for another world war just two decades later. Visit the famous Galerie des Glaces (Hall of Mirrors), the actual site of the treaty signing. Also included is an exclusive tour of the royal apartments, which still look much as they did when Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette fled in 1789.

Alternately, spend free time independently exploring the areas near port Mantes-la-Jolie.

Accommodations: SS Joie de Vivre (B, R, D)

DAY 9

After breakfast, transfer to Paris Charles de Gaulle Airport (CDG) for your independently scheduled flight home, or continue on the optional post-tour extension, The Liberation of Paris • (B)

Our local guides provide a dimension of unmatched expertise, sharing details from their native region of Normandy and personal connections to the history that unfolded there. Guides vary by departure.

GWENAEL PIERRE

Gwenael Pierre was born and raised in Brittany, France. His childhood interest in history led to summers in Normandy where he spent time exploring the battlefields. His grandparents related tales of the Resistance in Brittany and of the paratroopers' dawn landing in the nearby forest on D-Day. In 2015, Gwen began guiding small groups in Normandy and received certification as a qualified interpretive guide and obtained the national certification for guiding. He is a father to two young boys, and is thankful for his career that allows him to follow his passions. He holds degrees in small and medium business management.

MÉLANIE MOREAU

Born and raised in Normandy, Mélanie Moreau grew up surrounded by the historic sites and commemorations of the D-Day landings and the Battle of Normandy. Her passion for WWII history began at the age of 12 after watching Band of Brothers, which inspired her father to explore these locations in depth with her. Today, as a professional guide, she specializes in bringing history to life through the personal stories of the men and women whose courage and sacrifice made the liberation of Europe possible. She is committed to offering visitors an authentic, respectful, and deeply engaging experience of Normandy's WWII heritage.

PIERRE-SAMUEL NATANSON

Pierre-Samuel Natanson was born in Cherbourg and grew up in Normandy, nurtured by the stories of his grandparents scattered throughout Europe. Early in childhood, Pierre visited the sites of the Battle of Normandy, and developed a passion for WWII history. He went on to study military history at King's College London and Caen University. He started leading tours for the Caen Memorial Museum in 2012, then began leading tours for a small guiding company, where he gained more experience and knowledge of both the history and the geography of Normandy. Pierre offers a rich, enlightening, and friendly experience through one of the hardest battles ever fought in human history. Pierre has led dozens of tours for the Museum, including the 70th, 75th, and 80th anniversary of D-Day cruises, allowing for collaboration with a number of leading WWII historians and scholars.

ADRIEN RECOURA

Adrien Recoura was born and raised in Saint-Lô in Normandy. He has been working as a licensed guide since 2012, and started guiding with The National WWII Museum four years ago. His love for history and passion for the Normandy region are reasons he feels compelled to share his knowledge on the topic. He enjoys meeting people from all over the world. Adrien's grandparents were deeply involved in the war, as civilians, resistance fighters, and prisoners of war.

101ST AIRBORNE EASY COMPANY HELMET

This US M1 infantry helmet with airborne liner was worn by Edward Sabo, member of Easy Company, 2nd Battalion, 506th Parachute Infantry Regiment, 101st Airborne Division, during and after the Normandy invasion. Each of the four infantry regiments in the 101st Airborne used a suit from a deck of cards as its identifying mark. The spade went to the 506th Parachute Infantry Regiment hence the mark on the side of this helmet.

Gift of Linda Sabo Peck, 2033.352.001

GERMAN BOOTS

The black leather boots pictured here were worn by Franz Gockel on Omaha Beach on June 6, 1944. Franz Gockel's 18th birthday passed while he was defending the Atlantic Wall as a member of Germany's 726th Infantry Regiment of the 352nd Infantry Division. He manned a captured Polish machine gun in Widerstandsnest (Resistance Nest) 62 on Omaha Beach.

Gift of Franz Gockel, 2004.235.005

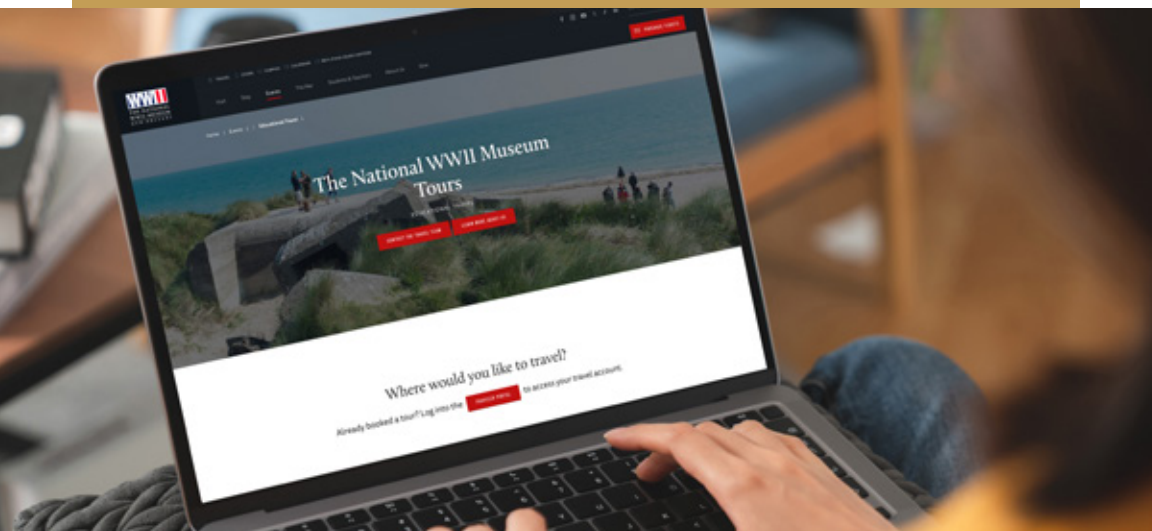

PARACHUTE WEDDING DRESS

Wedding dresses were made from parachutes on the US Home Front and in postwar occupied Europe. The war led to shortages of most fabrics, and to have dresses for their special day, brides often would acquire a parachute from a relative serving in the military. The parachute would then be cut up and turned into a dress, either at home or by a dedicated dressmaker. This dress was worn by Myrtille Delassus when she married American GI Sergeant Joseph Bilodeau in France shortly after the end of the war.
